* In the subject line of the submission email, write “Essay Contest Submission & [Submitter’s Name]”. Attach both the designated “Cover Page” and the “Essay Body” as Microsoft Word Documents (PDF or similar file types will not be accepted).

NOTES

1. Students may apply for both Japanese and English divisions if the title and content are different for each division. Please note that multiple essays cannot be submitted to the same division.
2. Refer to the template on the website before starting the writing your essay.
3. Be sure to include personal thoughts/opinion; do not just state facts.
4. Do not share any information that could be used to identify the writer of the essay. Please note that forms other than those specified will not be accepted.
5. Essays must be self-written and unpublished.
6. If you have references and/or citations should be included on a “Works Cited” page.
7. Fill out the “Cover Page” and submit it with the essay. International students need to write their names in both English and Katakana.
8. Submitted essays will not be returned.
9. Prize-winning essays will be published in a booklet issued by this committee. The Doshisha website has a list of winners (name, school, grade, and essay title). In addition, past First Prize essays are also posted for review.
